

Google Calender

Once you are hired, Kerri should invite you to the BGH Tech GCal. If you are not on this, ask him to.

This is where you can see when you are scheduled, with whom, and what the details of the events are. Once you are scheduled for something, please either accept or decline the invitation so that Kerri and Jason know who will be attending and who will not. This can help them get someone to cover and ensure that an event actually has people working for it.
